

Yishian Lin

Project Consultant
Chung-Hua Institution
For Economic Research

Mobile
+886 972 293 669

Email
yishian.lin@icloud.com

Background

Mr Lin is the project consultant for the Chung-Hua Institution for Economic Research and several Taiwanese government departments. He also teaches international tax and transfer pricing at national taxation bureaus, universities and multinational companies, and acts as the vice-chairman of International and China Service Committee of the Taiwan CPA Association. He is an IBFD correspondent in Taiwan for 13 years, responsible for updating and editing the Taiwan chapters of the Tax Research Platform and regularly reporting on tax law legislation in Taiwan for the IBFD Tax News Service.

Education and Experiences

Mr Lin has an LLM degree in International Tax from the Law School at Leiden University, the Netherlands, an MA degree in Management from Steinhardt School at New York University, and a BA degree in Accounting from the Management School at National Taiwan University. He is also a Certified Public Accountant and has a certificate of government officer in accounting and auditing. He has published several academic theses and research projects related to international taxation and anti-avoidance rules. He was a partner at the Tax & Legal Department of PwC Taiwan, Senior Manager of the Taiwan Desk in Europe of PwC Amsterdam, the Netherlands, and a consultant for PwC LLP New York.