

Hayato Furukawa
Director, International Operations Division,
National Tax Agency, Japan

Hayato Furukawa is Director of International Operations Division of the National Tax Agency, Japan. Since he joined the National Tax Agency in 1986, he has experienced wide range of work in the area of international taxation, including transfer pricing taxation, APA and mutual agreement procedures. He also has academic experiences as professor at the Graduate School of Accountancy, WASEDA University, and the Research Department of National Tax College. [He holds a master degree from the Maxwell School of Syracuse University and an undergraduate degree in law from the Sophia University.]